

Blayney/Hope Papers (D1421, D1406 and D971)

Summary

Old Castleblayney

The Blayney/Hope papers comprise c.3,000 documents, 1639-1950, relating to the Blayney estate at Castleblayney, Co. Monaghan (part of which was sold to the Upton family, Lords Templetow, of Templepatrick, Co. Antrim, in 1723 and the rest to the Hope family in 1853), elsewhere in Co. Monaghan, and in Carrickfergus and Cullybackey, Co. Antrim. Additional records, from another source, the office of John Corrigan, Solicitor, Castleblayney (D/1406), comprise a rental with accounts of Mrs Anne Hope's estate at Castleblayney, 1878-1879, and cash books of the 8th Duke of Newcastle's estate at Castleblayney, 1931-1943. There are also some Templetown records (D/971, etc) which add a little more information to the Blayney papers proper. By 1876, the former Blayney estate at Castleblayney was owned by Viscount Templetown with 12,846 acres and Mrs Anne Hope of Castleblayney with 11,700 acres.
