

Spellings used in the 1740 Protestant Householders Index on Name Search

The table below provides a list of the modern and original placename spellings used in Name Search as an aid to using the 'location' search option.

Where the modern spelling of a townland recorded in the Householders records could be identified, this has been used in Name Search and should be used in a 'location' search. Where a modern spelling could not be identified (i.e. where a question mark appears in the table), the original spelling from the Householders returns has been recorded in the database and should be used for location searching.

The modern spelling of barony and parish names in the headings below are given after the original spelling.

Some townlands are now to be found in a different parish than in 1740, in which case the new parish name is provided in brackets.
